

United States Air Force Academy Strength and Conditioning Mentorship Program

Mission

To provide a world-class educational experience in NCAA Division I athletics and Tactical Strength and Conditioning

Vision

To educate, inspire, and empower future performance professionals

Values

Character – Competence – Capacity

Overview:

The Air Force Academy, located in Colorado Springs, Colorado is home to over 1000 cadet-athletes competing in 26 sports. As one of three military institutions in the country, you can expect a one-of-a-kind experience coaching future leaders and officers in the United States Air and Space Force. Mentees who have successfully completed this program have gone on to earn full time performance positions with the United States military, Olympic, private, high school, and collegiate athletics.

Job Description:

- Assist the Strength and Conditioning staff in all day-to-day operations to include but not limited to; assisting with the implementation of strength and conditioning programs for Olympic Sports, setup and breakdown of training equipment, and assisting in the maintenance and upkeep of weight rooms.
- You are expected to be present for 16 weeks of 25-30 hours per week on sight.
- You will complete the mentorship curriculum to include academic assignments and practical sessions.
- You must have no criminal history and pass a background check.

Qualifications: Bachelor's degree is required. Coaching experience with CSCS or SCCC is preferred. All potential candidates will go through a multi-step application process that will include one in-person interview with the staff.

Compensation: This is an UNPAID POSITION.

How to Apply: Email ONE PDF document with a cover letter, resume, and three references to Coach Brad Raines at bradley.raines@afacademy.af.edu